SPORTS

The Cardinal Athletic Club base ball team will play the Cadilla Athletic Club nine on the North Alfred street grounds Sunday, July 4, at 3 p. m.

The Cardinals have won fourteen straight games during the present season from "strong" baseball teams and have not been defeated. "Speeding" Jones, the Cardinals pet twirler, who has been making the batmen of visiting teams almost stand on their heads in an attempt to connect with his "now-you-see them—now-you-don't" fast ones, will start the game. He has twelve victories to his credit up to date.

"Teddy" Schafer, the invincible catcher, will be on hand to show the fans what he knows about the art of catching behind the bat. This lad improves every game he plays, due, no doubt, to the instructions he receives from his sire, William Schafer, Sr., who is wise to the tricks used by catchers.

Others in the line up will be as follows: Compton or Roy Hood, late of the Toledo American Association team, first base; Hodges second base; McCann or George Allensworth, third base; Tetreault, shortstop; Sampson, Pattie, or Jim Sweeney, right field; Jimmy Alexander, center field; Frank Owens, left field; Neidfeldt, Ludwig, Payne, Finn, pitchers; Joe Owens, Jeff Williams, Rooney, McLean, and Meaney, extra players.

Sunday and Monday the Dreadnaughts will play the fast Athletics from Washington. This team is claimed to be one of the best in the capital city and the home team will have to be upon its toes every minute to win.

After Sunday's game, the War Department, a colored team from Washington, and the Alexandria Lafayettees, a local colored aggregation will compete, those fans who remember the last colored game will not miss this one.

The final arrangements for the Knickerbocker series have been arranged. The first game will be staged here on July 18th, the second game on the home grounds of the Knickerbocker Club on August 15, and if a third game is necessary, it will be played in the American League Park.

The club expects to have accommodations arranged for four thousand fans for the first game and expect at least that many to be present to cheer the team onto a victory.

Seating capacity in the new grandstand will be ready for Sunday's game, but the work on the top has not yet been completed.

DOUBLE HOLIDAY

Large Throngs Leave For Nearby Resorts To Spend Fourth

A double holiday for Independence day will be enjoyed by thousands of Alexandrians, many of whom left early this afternoon to spend the two days at the different resorts.

The day will be quietly observed in Alexandria with most of its population out of the city. A number of baseball games here and in Washington will attract many. Picnics and excursions to country and river resorts tomorrow and Monday will attract many persons.

Practically all business will be suspended Monday. Banks, city and government offices will be closed all day as will most all of the retail stores.

The use of dangerous fireworks is under the ban, although Monday night skyrockets and set pieces will be used and the younger folks will also enjoy sparklers, red lights and the like.

Mr. Charles M. Jones left today for Berkeley Springs, W. Va., where he will spend the Fourth with friends.

TO INDICT TURNER IN U.S. COURT HERE

Case to be Presented to Grand Jury Tuesday

TRIAL IN RICHMOND

Charged With Killing T. Morgan Moore of This City Which Occurred May 23—Prisoner in Richmond.

The case of William H. Turner, colored, charged with shooting and killing T. Morgan Moore, of this city, which occurred the morning of May 23 at the south end of the highway bridge, will be presented to the grand jury which will meet in this city Tuesday morning, Judge Edmund Waddill, presiding. The case of Turner will be tried in Richmond before Judge Waddill. It is expected that just as soon as the indictment is returned a date for the trial of the self confessed slayer of Moore will be fixed upon. Turner is now a prisoner in the Richmond jail having been taken there a short time after he was taken in custody. The federal authorities deemed it inexpedient not to try Turner in Alexandria owing to the feeling against the prisoner. In addition to considering the foregoing indictment to be presented many other indictments are also to be presented the grand jury at this term of court including many for violating the internal revenue laws.

There will be a petit jury at this term of court when several cases that have been standing for some time past will be presented the jury for its consideration.

OUR MOTTO—If it is done at Remschel's, it must be done right. 158-1f.

FLAG OF WASHINGTON
Fourth of July 1920.

Ring the tuneful bells of Freedom,
Let their music float afar,
Look aloft and see our banner,
Of the glorious stripe and star;
Crowned with victory, bathed in splendor

Upon many a field of fame,
Heroes brave have died around it,
Each with an immortal name.
N'eat its folds our fathers triumphed

In the valiant days of yore,
And in battles for their country
They that beauteous banner bore;
Not a star today is missing,
Not a stripe a tarnish knows,
As it waves in conscious splendor

From the sun lands to the snows,
Let our Eagle guard it ever
For the honor it has won,
As he bathes his noble pinions
In the light of Freedom's sun,
Proud to see his emblem floating

'Gainst the vaulted azure sky;
Hear him shriek his proud approval
Every fourth day of July.
On the land and on the ocean,
Far as human eye can see
Lips repeat the deathless story
Of the Banner of the Free;

Born amid the storms of battle
Not a shame its glory mars;
And new nations wake to freedom
At the glitter of its stars.
Mirrored in our crystal rivers,
Streaming from our mountain peaks,
Loved by freemen for its beauty
It for Right and Freedom speaks;
Time will never dim its glory
While in heaven shines the sun;
Ever linked to song and story
Is the Flag of Washington.

GLASS ATTACKS SOLDIER BONUS

Says Two of His Sons Were Members of A. E. F. In France

FOUGHT FOR COUNTRY

"Carry Me Back to Old Virginia." Struck up by Representative of Old Dominion, Brings Forth Applause.

San Francisco, Cal., July 3.—United States Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, chairman of the committee on resolutions, has achieved a signal triumph in the committee of which he is the head, having adopted the league of nations plank practically as he represented the matter to the state Democratic convention at Roanoke in May last. This was accomplished in the face of what appeared to be insurmountable obstacles two days ago. The changes made in that plank are insignificant, and its condemnments the Republican senate for adopting reservations and separate peace resolutions and advocates ratification of the peace treaty and such membership in the league of nations as would in no wise impair the national integrity or independence.

When the matter of the bonus for the soldiers was taken up Senator Glass made what is believed the most touching speech of his career in opposing that proposition. He declared that he was interested in the matter and could state his position without any fear whatever. Two of his sons, he said, had enlisted as privates in the war against Germany; they had gone across the seas "They fought for love of their country and not for any hope of a cash reward," he declared with emphasis, and his emotions for the time got the better of him and tears coursed down his cheeks as he thought of the resolute idea of having patriotism placed on the basis of pelf.

Not much time was required for the committee to put its foot down on the proposal to make an asset for personal gain of the record of the men who answered the call of the country when war appeared. It was the speech of Senator Glass that made the members of the committee think and vote.

T. E. Johnson, one of the Virginia delegation, made a great hit when the convention was waiting for the committee on resolutions to report. He went to the stage and announced that he would be pleased to have the delegates join him in a vocal program, and then launched forth into a number of melodies that were familiar to the delegates and they gave approval by joining in the chorus. One of the features of this event was the shout of an old colored woman, who, when Mr. Johnson struck up "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," shouted with much vigor: "That's me folks. That's me. Carry me back to Ole Virginia." And 15,000 people in the great auditorium applauded the old woman and the singer.

TENTATIVE PROGRAM FOR STATE FIREMEN

Committee Maps Out Plans For August 25, 26, 27.

RECEPTION AUGUST 24

Parade, Races, Band Concert, Auto Tours, Buffet Luncheon, Mask Carnival and Block Dance Features.

A big reception the night preceding the opening of the annual convention of the Virginia State Firemen's Association will be a feature of the affair which will hold its sessions here August 25, 26 and 27. This decided upon last night by the local committee of arrangements at a meeting held in the office of Fire Chief K. W. Ogden. It also was decided to have a reception the morning of August 25 in honor of the visiting firemen.

The committee shortly will complete the program for the demonstration to be given the firemen the night of August 24.

The business session will convene Wednesday morning August 25 and last until 5 p. m. and that night there will be a band concert followed by a parade which will be participated in by the local fire department only.

Thursday August 26, the visiting firemen will be taken on a sight-seeing automobile trip and at 3 p. m. a demonstration will begin for a big parade which will move about 4:30 o'clock and judging from present indications more than 1,000 will be in line of march. Following the parade the participants will be entertained at buffet supper.

That night there will be a big street masked carnival and block dance in which everyone in the city will be invited to join. Several bands of music will take part.

Friday August 27 will be given over exclusively to reel races in which all state and out of state companies will compete for the various prizes which have been offered. It was decided that the merchants who have usually been closing at 3 o'clock in the afternoon on Wednesday be asked to close instead on Thursday and also all others who do not close to close that afternoon.

Chief Ogden will personally invite the Washington Fire Department, officials and members to participate in this celebration.

Additional chairmen of committees named follow: Reception and entertainment, William Desmond, chairman; H. Noel Garner, vice chairman. Decorations—C. M. Horgan, automobiles, J. M. Duncan, contest, J. Frank Petty; music, Roger C. Sullivan.

In addition to the Virginia companies a number of Maryland companies will also be asked to take part in the celebration. Invitations are now being prepared and will shortly be sent out.

CARLIN'S FORECAST

San Francisco, July 3.—"It's Palmer or McAdoo," was a confident declaration of former Congressman Carlin, of Virginia, manager of A. Mitchell Palmer's campaign last night. This is a flat contradiction of previous statements from the Attorney General who had all along claimed that if he shall not be nominated for the Presidency, the winner will be some one who has not been mentioned.

Congressman Carlin's motion that all the other candidates will be eliminated and the test will boil down between Palmer and McAdoo, is regarded by friends of McAdoo as favorable to the latter's cause. They contend that if the President has to decide between the two his will back McAdoo, in which event Palmer would be expected to accept the invitation and move to make McAdoo's nomination unanimous.

McADOO IN LEAD ON TWO BALLOTS

Gains 23 Votes in Democratic Convention Yesterday

GLASS FALLS IN REAR

Outstanding Features of Platform—Silence Upon Wet and Dry Question—Strong on Other Subjects.

W. G. McADOO

Exposition Auditorium, San Francisco, July 3.—Two ballots taken late yesterday evening in the Democratic convention failed to show any choice for the nomination for President.

McAdoo led on both ballots receiving 206 on the first and 239 on the second. Palmer had 256 on the first and 264 on the second while Cox their nearest competitor received 134 on the first ballot and 159 on the second.

Cummings, Marshall, Owens, Glass, Gerard, Hitchcock, Meredith, Edwards and Davis trailed along far in the rear. The gain of 23 votes given to McAdoo on the second ballot was a scattered gain among twelve States.

Outstanding features of the Democratic platform submitted to the party's national convention today by Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, chairman of the resolutions committee, are:

1. Complete silence upon the wet and dry question.
2. Emphatic indorsement of the League of Nations covenant, with a demand for prompt ratification without nullifying reservations, but with an expression of willingness to accept reservations clarifying the covenant or making it more specific with respect to American obligations.
3. A simple expression of sympathy for Irish aspirations without any reference to American recognition of the Irish republic.
4. Rejection of the Administration plank recommending acceptance by the United States of a mandate for America.
5. Pledge of support to a plan aiding American veterans of the World War to acquire farms and homes, but no promise of a money bonus.
6. Strong planks on labor, agriculture, the interests of women and woman suffrage.

President Wilson yesterday placed his unqualified indorsement on the procedure thus far pursued by the convention, and expressed his "perfect confidence" that the party "will go from victory to victory until the true traditions of the republic are vindicated."

The President signified his appreciation of the work of the convention and its uncompromising stand for the ratification of the treaty without change in a communication to Homer S. Cummings, the convention chairman. The President's message was sent in reply to the convention's greetings and was made public at the White House simultaneously with its reading in San Francisco.

THE DAY WE CELEBRATE

One hundred and forty-four years ago tomorrow, our forefathers met in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, and attached their names to the Declaration of Independence—a bold act, when it is remembered that they took their lives in their own hands, as had the revolt against George III. proved a failure. The gibbet awaited them. Fearless however, and appealing to God to bless the justice of their cause, with firm hands and with the shadow of the halberd over their heads they affixed their names to a document, which declared the thirteen colonies free and independent. The first war for freedom followed, and several long years elapsed before the people of Great Britain, by a popular vote, showed their anxiousness for a close of hostilities and the recognition of the United States of America as a free and independent power.

England, however, had no idea of relinquishing control over the colonies. When the British men-of-war pulled up anchor and sailed out of Boston harbor they saluted the British flag which had been placed upon a gilded pole by red coats, and the crews of the Britishers as they left the harbor cried back at our progenitors, "Never mind, d— you; we'll get you yet."

American statesmen of that day were aware of the fact that the first battle for independence had been fought and won, but that the second would be in evidence sooner or later.

In 1812 England began movements which soon rung the curtain up on the next act in the tragedy. American seamen were taken from ships of the United States and pressed into the service of the British navy, our ships were overhauled and searched by British men-of-war, the "Chesapeake" son-of-a-bitch war ship, was attacked and sunk. English battleships anchored in Hampton Roads and other American harbors without saluting the Star and Stripes, and their every movement made it plain to our forefathers that they assumed they were visiting certain of the English possessions.

Shortly after the recognition of the United States by Great Britain Benjamin Franklin (who was in Paris), was approached by a liberty loving Frenchman. The latter extended his hand to the American philosopher and statesman and said: "Doctor, I congratulate you upon winning the war for freedom." Franklin replied: "The first war only has been fought; the second, sooner or later, will follow in its wake." And it did.

The United States was forced to declare war on the mother country in 1812, and after two years' struggle, unable to bring England to acknowledge the justice of our cause, the American commissioners signed the Treaty of Ghent with the point over which we went to war—a denial of the right of Great Britain to stop American ships and take them from Americans and compel them to become members of the crews of their war ships—still open.

Relations with Great Britain had improved but little when the war between the states began in 1861. William H. Seward, then Secretary of State, conceived a plan to place England in a position where she should be obliged to acknowledge the justice of the demand which brought on the war of 1812. He ordered the United States man-of-war San Jacinto to proceed to the Bahama Channel and when the British mail steamer Trent, which was to leave Nassau, drew near, to stop the steamer and take therefrom James M. Mason and John Slidell. Commissioners from the Confederate States, on their way to England. This bold act was immediately resented by Great Britain. Lord Russell, then at the head of the British Foreign Office, instructed Lord Lyons, British Minister at Washington, to demand the release of Mason and Slidell within seven days. Seward waited until the last of the seven days when he sent for Lord Lyons and requested him to explain the demand of his government. This the Britisher did in a succinct manner—to the effect that the United States exceeded its rights in stopping an English mail steamer and taking therefrom passengers who had come aboard at a British port, England being a neutral nation.

The wily Seward was quick to respond: "Well, if the United States has no right to stop a neutral ship on the high seas under such circumstances, her Majesty's government does not assume such privileges." Lyons had fallen into a trap—he was the victim of a Yankee trick—and was compelled to disclaim any such right on the part of Great Britain. Thus was settled an issue without a drop of bloodshed which had brought on the second war for independence.

Three score or more years ago the celebration of the Fourth of July was on different lines from these of the present day. A large percentage of our population is foreign-born, and our Independence Day fails to appeal to them as it did when the great bulk of the people of this country were native and to the manner born.

We are living in troublous times when democracy is but little understood by many in the land of the free and the home of the brave.

IMPLAUSIBLE INSINUATION

If President Wilson at this time were exerting the unquestionably tremendous influence which he possesses with the delegates at the San Francisco convention in favor of one or another candidate for the Democratic nomination, we can imagine the criticism that would be heaped upon him by his partisan opponents.

But because he is maintaining strictly hands off attitude he comes in for criticism, anyhow. This commonly takes the form of hinting that he is scheming to secure the nomination for himself.

Only the event can prove whether or not there is anything in this insinuation. But to our mind there is an overwhelmingly strong presumption against the truth of it, due to the evident fact, Mrs. Wilson is of course, more concerned about the triumph of his principles and policies than any thing else. Her ally wants to have his course indicated at the November election, if he is nominated for the Presidency, that becomes impossible.

Whatever the feeling of the people toward the President's principles and policies, they will not elect an Italian to an office whose duties are more and more require perfection in the occupant. Millions of admirers of the President would vote against him on the score of his physical condition alone. His nomination, then, would be the surest method of defeating the cause which he has at heart.

The President knows this. The delegates at San Francisco know it. —Baltimore Sun.

SHOOT AT ACHING TOOTH

Woman In Constant Pain Uses Pistol as Last Desperate Resort

Baltimore, July 3.—Constant pain from an aching tooth caused Mrs. Teresa Kvedar, 50 years old, Washington Park, to take stern measures to rid herself of the suffering.

According to the police of the Southwestern district she shot herself in the right side of her face Wednesday night in an effort to dislodge the aching tooth. A .32-caliber revolver was used, the bullet plowing through the flesh of her cheek and lodging near the right eye. She is said to have told her husband that she intended to use a pistol when all remedies failed.

She was brought to St. Agnes' Hospital.

SHOT BY BROTHER

Old Story of "Unloaded" Rifle Again Enacted at Riverdale, Md.

The old story of the "unloaded" rifle was again enacted at Riverdale, Md. yesterday, when George Rogers, 6-year-old son of W. A. Rogers, employed by the W. G. Cornwell Company, of Washington was accidentally shot by an older brother. The boy was brought to Emergency Hospital in an automobile and it was said last night that he will recover.

The weapon with which the boys were playing was a .22 caliber. The bullet struck the boy in the neck and came out of his back.

SPARKLERS BANNED

Plan to Prohibit Use of All Fireworks in Philadelphia Defeated

Philadelphia, July 3.—The sale or use of "sparklers" in Philadelphia was prohibited by City Council at a stirring session yesterday and immediately after the action a certified copy of the bill was rushed to Mayor Moore who signed it and made it effective at once.

FIGHT ON LIQUOR ISSUE

Steam-Roller Tactics Reut Those Who Favored a Dry Plank

San Francisco, July 3.—Tammany emerged the victor yesterday in a sharp contest in the New York delegation to the Democratic national convention over the liquor question. By adopting steam-roller tactics Tammany succeeded in instructing the New York member of the resolutions committee, W. Souke Cockran, to vote for a wet plank. This was done in the face of vigorous, but ineffectual protest by Mayor George H. Lunn and Judge Seabury, an alternate, who demanded a right to speak, but was ruled out of order by W. W. Farley, vice chairman of the delegation.

Amid cries of "put him out" Lunn was denied a record vote on the adoption of a resolution proposed by Norman E. Mack, instructing for a wet plank. Lunn declared the delegation was being run by "rag rule."

Resolutions favoring Irish independence, another favoring the aims of Italy regarding Fiume, a third favoring prompt ratification of suffrage and another asking federal enactment of a compensation law for marine workers were adopted. The delegation chose Miss Marbury as the woman member of the Democratic national committee from New York.

AN ALEXANDRIA INTERVIEW

Mrs. Nalls Tells Her Experience. The following brief account of an interview with an Alexandria woman four years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every woman.

Mrs. L. C. Nalls, 214 Duke St. Alexandria, says: "I could hardly get around the house my back was so weak and sore, and when I got down it was almost impossible to get up again. I couldn't rest at night and mornings I felt so weak and tired all over it was all I could do to dress. My kidneys acted irregularly and caused me a great deal of misery. My head ached a great deal. I was a dull, steady pain. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Summer Drug Store and the first box did me so much good I used another. My back stopped aching and my kidneys haven't caused me any trouble since."

Mrs. Nalls gave the above statement on April 10, 1915 and on March 15, 1919 she added: "I was pretty bad off with kidney trouble and nothing helped me the way Doan's Kidney Pills did. Doan's are the best kidney remedy I know of." 60c at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

CUBANS CORNER SUGAR

Pledge Themselves Not to Sell Until Market Reaches 24 Cents

Havana, July 3.—Cuban cane growers, sugar mill owners and brokers, claiming to control the sale of 2,180,000 sacks of unsold sugar, were on record yesterday as definitely pledged not to offer any more sugar for sale until the price had reached 24 cents a pound, the level reached during the last half of May.

This decision was reached at a mass meeting held Tuesday night, which was presided over by Miguel Arango, president of the association of Hacendados and Colonos of Cuba. At this meeting a committee of twelve, headed by Arango, was selected to act as the exclusive selling agent of those represented at the meeting. Participants pledged themselves to withdraw from the market all offers for the sale of sugar and to sell none except through the medium of the committee, which is pledged to make no sales for less than 24 cents a pound.

The amount of unsold Cuban sugar was estimated by a member of the selling committee at 3,920,000 sacks, leaving only 1,740,000 sacks, under outside control. Efforts are being made to bring these into the pool.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

July 4th

Day of glory! Welcome day!
Freedom's banners greet thy ray;
See! how cheerfully they play

With thy morning breeze,
On the rocks where pilgrims kneeled,
On the heights where squadrons wheeled,
When a tyrant's thunder pealed
O'er the trembling seas.

God of armies! did thy stars
On their courses smite his cars;
Blast his arm and wrest his bars
From the heaving tide?
On our standard, lo! they burn,
And, when days like this return,
Sparkle o'er the soldier's urn
Who for freedom died.

God of peace, whose spirit fills
All the echoes of our hills,
All the murmur of our rills,
Now the storm is o'er,
O let freemen be our sons,
And let future Washingtons
Rise, to lead their valiant ones
Till there's war no more!

MORE CLERKS LET OUT

New Fiscal Year Sees Another Exodus of Federal Employees

Washington, July 3.—With the beginning of the new fiscal year yesterday another big exodus of government clerks took place from practically all departments. It is estimated that 10,000 clerks will be stricken from Uncle Sam's pay rolls by July 15.

Wholesale cuts in appropriations were made at the last session of Congress, which acted on the theory that the wartime need is over. Work will pile up in some departments, it is believed, but the shortage of personnel will be overcome in a measure by interdepartment transfers.

War-time clerks are debarred from the privilege of transfer, however, unless they have had three years' service in a given department, according to the provisions of the Civil Service act.

The War Department is expected to release the largest number, this month, placed at 3,000. Last month 5,000 were released in this one department alone. The Navy Department dropped 750 civilian clerks yesterday and more dismissals are expected. Other departments are making similar cuts.

Clerks subject to dismissal were notified some time ago and were given the privilege of securing positions with the Census Bureau. Few availed themselves of the offer, it is reported, because of the meager salary paid for the work in this bureau.

DECIDES RIGHT TO SUE

Justice Gould Rules in Case of Former Senator Bailey Against Paper

Washington, July 3.—Justice Gould handed down a decision yesterday in the $100,000 suit by Former Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, against the New York Tribune, by which it is held that a New York paper, keeping a correspondent here, is subject to service of process and suit in this District and trial may be had in the Federal court here.

Former Senator Bailey, claimed to have been damaged by a publication concerning him and filed suit in the District Supreme Court through his attorneys Wilton Lambert and R. H. Yeatman.

Motion was made by Douglas & O'Neal to dismiss for want of jurisdiction on the part of the District courts. Considerable testimony was taken and arguments had, the court having had the case under advisment for several months.

Trial before a jury on the merits will be had in the fall.

Bezazian Hero of New Orleans Opera Fire

Famous Baritone Disinherited for Art's Sake

In the recent fire which destroyed the New Orleans Grand Opera House, one of the heroes was Torcon Bezazian, who will appear with the International Artists on the coming Chautauque program.

Living near the building he was awakened by commotion, and together with the tenor, Perles, they rushed to the burning theatre, pushed their way inside hoping to get to the rooms where their costumes were kept. Defeated in their purpose by the flames they broke into the orchestra room and saved a number of valuable instruments and scores. By the time they were able to get outside the building they were nearly overcome by smoke. Bezazian's entire wardrobe was destroyed.

Bezazian is a native of France, and is a graduate of the University at Nancy, where he studied engineering. At the same time he took a course in clarinet at the conservatory of Nancy, where he also received a diploma. Discovering that he possessed a voice, he chose an artistic career for which he was promptly dis-inherited by his people, a wealthy and prominent family. Then followed devious wanderings, and Bezazian came to the United States. During the early part of the war he was invited to sing at a Red Cross meeting in Columbus, Ohio. He chose to sing "The Marseillaise" and on that occasion, says the Columbus Ohio State Journal, "two hundred able-bodied Americans, hard-headed business men, for the most part, had to wipe their eyes when Bezazian threw out the tremendous phrases of the great battle air with his big baritone voice." Any way, inspired by Bezazian's song, those unsentimental business men went down into their pockets to the extent of $50,000 for the Red Cross at that time.

With M. Bezazian will be Mme. Alberta Carina, famous coloratura soprano of the San Francisco Opera Company, Marion Jordan, exceptional flutist, and Edna Jones, pianist. Misses Jordan and Jones have a distinguished standing among the musicians who appear on the Lyceum and Chautauque platforms.

Following their musical prelude, Edward Amherst Ott will give his stirring lecture, "Victory" in which he asks the question, "Reconstruction or Re-construction?"

A SENSIBLE
INVESTMENT

The most sensible way to invest your money is to keep your property in good condition and to have a home which will make your family comfortable and other buildings which will properly house your belongings.

You get the direct benefit from money invested in this way from day to day, in addition to the actual increase in the value of your property.

There have been some reductions in the price of lumber by the mills and we are reducing our prices to meet these, regardless of the cost of the different items we have in stock.

Good Light Lightens Labor ::

Lighting the kitchen is like lighting a factory. Good lighting quickens production, as the factory man would say. In other words, it makes work go faster without the expenditure of any more energy.

Of all places needing more light and better light the kitchen in most homes is one of the most important. And when you have doubled or trebled the light in your work rooms, try it also in your living rooms.

If you find that doubling or trebling the illumination there mean glaring light, don't cut down the amount of lighting again—shade the light better! Keep the direct rays from striking the eye. Throw some of the light to the ceiling and walls.

In every socket—in every room—from cellar to garret—use only

EDISON MAZDA LAMPS

If you will do that, you will find that a great deal more light in the room is decorative, pleasing and restful. It's not the amount of LIGHT that you find irritating in some rooms, but the amount of GLARE.

OUR METER MEN REPORT THAT A NUMBER OF OUR CUSTOMERS ARE USING CARBON LAMPS. WHY NOT BE UP TO DATE? USE MAZDA LAMPS—BETTER LIGHT—LOWER BILLS.
